Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-2 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-2 have no clear meaning: the claim recite a method in the claims preamble but no positive method limitations have been recited; there is no orderly or sequential or clear method steps recited; indeed it is difficult to distinguish possible method steps.; the text “ during the application of the decorating pattern” has no clear meaning. The claims are being addressed as far as understood

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3635

Claim 1, as far as understood, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Robell (6115926). Robell discloses a method of aligning a plate 2 provided with a decorating pattern prior to trimming comprising the plate which includes an alignment line; see column 6, lines 30-67; the line is used when aligning the plate;

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, as far as understood, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Robell in view of Cavit (6115926).

It is obvious to place the plate on a table or support surface prior to trimming; nevertheless, Cavit discloses a work piece used in combination with a table to facilitate alignment and measurement of the work piece or plate. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the work piece or plate of Robell in combination with Cavit to facilitate alignment of the piece/plate as taught by Cavit.
